DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-4, 6-15, 17, 19 and 22-25 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In claims 1, 2, 6, 13, 17, 19 and 22-24, the newly-added expression "single structure" is not supported by the originally-filed specification and thus, constitutes new matter. In claim 1, lines 12 and 13, the newly-added expression "wherein the first dimension and the second dimension are created in different portions of the single structure" is not supported by the originally-filed specification and thus, constitutes new matter. In claim 19, lines 12 and 13, the newly-added expression "wherein the first dimension and the second dimension are created simultaneously in different portions of the single structure" is not supported by the originally-filed specification and thus, constitutes new matter.

3. Claims 1-4, 6-15, 17, 19 and 22-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The originally filed specification fails to state or teach one of ordinary skill in the art what constitutes a single structure (claims 1, 2, 6, 13, 17, 19 and 22-24), how a first dimension and a second dimension (of a single structure) are created in different portions of the single structure (claim 1, lines 12 and 13) and how a first dimension and a second dimension (of a single structure) are created simultaneously in different portions of the single structure (claim 19, lines 12 and 13). Without this disclosure, one of ordinary skill in the art could not practice the claimed invention.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-4, 6-15, 17, 19 and 22-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1, 2, 6, 13, 17, 19 and 22-24, the expression "single structure" renders the claims indefinite principally because it is not clear what applicant intends to cover by such a recitation (i.e., it is not clear exactly what constitutes a "single structure").

In claim 1, lines 12 and 13, the expression "wherein the first dimension and the second dimension are created in different portions of the single structure" renders the claim indefinite principally because it is not clear what applicant intends to cover by such a recitation (e.g., how are these dimensions created in different portions of a single structure).

In claim 19, lines 12 and 13, the expression "wherein the first dimension and the second dimension are created simultaneously in different portions of the single structure" renders the claim indefinite principally because it is not clear what applicant intends to cover by such a recitation (e.g., how are these dimensions created simultaneously in different portions of a single structure).

Art Unit: 1732

In claim 17, line 3, the expression "the patterned mask" does not have clear and proper antecedent basis in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-4, 6-15, 17, 19 and 22-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Beebe et al (U.S. Patent 6,488,872 B1) for the reasons of record.

Beebe et al teaches a process as claimed, of making a structure (which appears to meet the limitation of a "single structure"). Beebe et al teaches forming a structure and selectively promoting polymerization (i.e., lithography), and Beebe et al also teaches introducing a polymerizable fluid, hydrodynamically focusing the polymerizable fluid, selectively promoting polymerization and forming a structure (i.e., hydrodynamic focusing).

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4, 6-15, 17, 19 and 22-25 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

9. With respect to Beebe et al, the descriptions in Beebe et al of how to manufacture structures in micro-devices (e.g., lithography, hydrodynamic focusing) may (if desired) be used individually or in combination (note, for example the claims of Beebe et al, particularly claims 1, 9 and 10).

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
